Les restes humains badegouliens de la Grotte du Placard

Cannibalisme et guerre il y a 20,000 ans

BRUNO BOULESTIN (AUTHOR), DOMINIQUE HENRY-GAMBIER (AUTHOR)

This book presents a detailed study of the Badegoulian human remains from le Placard, a major Upper Palaeolithic site in France. Despite the antiquity of the discovery, the remains still constitute a unique assemblage that contributes greatly to our knowledge of the behaviours of hunter-gatherer populations in European prehistory.

CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS VOLUME

Bruno Boulestin and Dominique Henry-Gambier are anthropologists at the University of Bordeaux (France), members of the research unit 'De la Préhistoire à l'Actuel : Culture, Environnement, Anthropologie' (PACEA, UMR 5199 of the CNRS). They are working on practices surrounding death in ancient societies, from both archaeological, bioarchaeological and socio-anthropological data. B. Boulestin's work deals more specifically with bone modifications and the treatments of corpses. D. Henry-Gambier is a specialist in Upper Palaeolithic populations.
