

Archaeological session I, Monday 5th May 2014, 13h30-17h00

Introduction

13h30-13h40 Pierre Guibert et al., Archaeological sciences at the universities of Bordeaux

13h40-13h50 Ari Ide-Ektessabi et al., Archaeology and Cultural Heritage studies at the University of Kyoto

Archaeology and chronology

13h50-14h00 Norbert Mercier, Geochronology by luminescence techniques

14h00-14h10 Anne Delagnes, Prehistoric crossed studies between Europe and Africa

14h10-14h20 Bruno Maureille, The black Perigord (Dordogne, France): an holy land for Neandertals ?

14h20-14h30 Isabelle Crèvecoeur, Late Pleistocene and Early Holocene biological diversity in Nubia: the El Barga funerary complex

14h30-14h40 Alexis Gorgues, Culture and technology in western European Late Prehistory

14h40-14h50 Anne Michel, Building archaeology: An interdisciplinary approach for a better understanding of Ancient Societies : The example of Saint-Seurin of Bordeaux

14h50 – 15h10 Makoto Tomii, From the archaeological sites in Kyoto University

15h10 - 15h30 Discussion (and coffee break)

Cultural Heritage, 3D imaging, non-invasive techniques

15h30-15h50 Arno Suzuki, how Japanese local people respond to the preservation effort of historical asset houses

15h50-16h H el ene Coqueugniot, 3D imaging for reconstructing the Human Past

16h00 – 16h10 Bruno Dutailly, Archeovision: 3D for digital humanities

16h10 – 16h20 Flor al Daniel, Hyperspectral imaging for the non-invasive study of a collection of mediaeval miniatures.

16h20 – 16h40 Ari Ide-Ektessabi, High resolution imaging and cultural heritage

16h40 – 17h00 Discussion

Archaeological session II, Tuesday 6th May 2014, 8h30-12h00

8h30 meeting point: Maison de l'Arch ologie, Esplanade des Antilles, 33607 Pessac cedex (I will send tramway plan with a map of the Bordeaux campus)

11h30 End of visits, transfer to the lunch location in Bordeaux center.

N ecessit  de r aliser des visites cibl es selon les pr f rences de nos interlocuteurs japonais.